

IDDRI

République
du Sénégal

High Level Political Forum side event

How to achieve SDG2? Two initiatives to support the development of national transformation pathways

12 July 2016

1:15 PM — 2:30 PM

Conference room 8 in the UN Conference Building, New-York

Innovative ideas and promising pilot projects are needed to sustain the momentum created by the new sustainable development agenda, particularly in the field of agriculture and food systems, which is still considerably left behind in spite of its fundamental importance for the world's development. This side event will showcase two promising initiatives to support the 2030 agenda: the Agricultural Transformation Pathways Initiative and the Changing Course in Global Agriculture Project.

Program - A light lunch will be served before the event starts

1.15 pm – 1.30 pm: Introduction

David Nabarro, Special Adviser on 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development (video intervention)

H.E. Fodé Seck, Ambassador and Permanent Representative of Senegal to the United Nations

Deborah Fulton, Secretary of the Committee on World Food Security (CFS)

1.30 pm – 1.45 pm: Presentation of the Changing Course in Global Agriculture Initiative

Hans Herren, President Millenium Institute and Biovision

1.45 pm – 2.00 pm: Presentation of the Agricultural Transformation Pathways Initiative

Marie-Hélène Schwoob, research fellow at IDDRI

2.00 pm – 2.30 pm: Interactive debate with the audience

Facilitator: Zachary Bleicher, Head of IFAD Office New York

This side event encourages active participation from all the audience!
Please feel free to fill the lines below and hand it over to the organizers or follow this link

Questions, comments or any other concern: mariehelene.schwoob@iddri.org

What kind of initiatives or projects should be promoted to build, adopt and implement transformation pathways towards sustainable agriculture and food systems?

Tell us who you are and let's stay in touch! Contact information: