

CITIZEN ENGAGEMENT AND DELIBERATIVE DEMOCRACY FESTIVAL

TITLE	Experts and expertise in citizen engagement and deliberative democracy. What is good practice?
TOPIC	The role of expertise in democracy and its evolution with new practices of democracy
TEASER [250 characters max]	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - What role for scientific expertise in supporting democracy through citizen engagement & deliberative democracy? - How does the involvement of scientific expertise in citizen engagement & deliberative democracy affect public understanding of science and scientific understanding of public matters? - How does the relationship between science, policy and society evolve with new practices of democracy such as with citizen engagement & deliberative democracy?
MODERATOR [affiliation]	Elisa Vecchione (JRC)
SPEAKERS [include affiliation; send also headshot 4x4 cm by 12/11/2020]	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Prof. Johan Bouma (WUR, NL) 2. Prof. Teresa Pinto Correia (University of Évora, PT) 3. Dr. Mathieu Saujot (IDDRI, FR) 4. Dr. Violeta Cabello (IBFS, ES)
OUTCOME	The session is expected to provide a set of recommendations over two points: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How to ensure that scientific expertise increases trust in institutions and reinforces democracy 2. The definition of a number of 'good practices' in including scientific expertise in citizen engagement and deliberative democracy

DATE & TIME : 10th December, 11,30-12,30

